

I'm dumbfounded to the fact that local broadcasters who feel threatned by satellite radio try to shut down various channels that are of great benefit to US citizens rather than improve their own capabilities. What is worse is that congress and the FCC would waste their time and our tax dollars on such issues.